RECOMMENDATION

We rate TESLA INC (TSLA) a HOLD. The primary factors that have impacted our rating are mixed - some indicating strength, some showing weaknesses, with little evidence to justify the expectation of either a positive or negative performance for this stock relative to most other stocks. The company's strengths can be seen in multiple areas, such as its revenue growth, largely solid financial position with reasonable debt levels by most measures and solid stock price performance. However, as a counter to these strengths, we also find weaknesses including deteriorating net income, premium valuation and poor profit margins.

HIGHLIGHTS

TESLA's revenue growth trails the subsector average of 19.8%. Since the same quarter one year prior, revenues slightly increased by 8.8%. This growth in revenue does not appear to have trickled down to the company's bottom line, displayed by a decline in earnings per share.

TESLA's debt-to-equity ratio is very low at 0.15 and is currently below that of the subsector average, implying that there has been very successful management of debt levels. Along with the favorable debt-to-equity ratio, the company maintains an adequate quick ratio of 1.10, which illustrates the ability to avoid short-term cash problems.

Compared to its closing price of one year ago, TESLA's share price has jumped by 39.41%, exceeding the performance of the broader market during that same time frame. Setting our sights on the months ahead, however, we feel that the stock's sharp appreciation over the last year has driven it to a price level which is now relatively expensive compared to the rest of its subsector. The implication is that its reduced upside potential is not good enough to warrant further investment at this time.

Net operating cash flow has decreased to $3,308.00 million or 35.13% when compared to the same quarter last year. In addition, when comparing the cash generation rate to the subsector average, the firm's growth is significantly lower.

The company, on the basis of change in net income from the same quarter one year ago, has significantly underperformed when compared to that of the S&P 500 and the Transportation Equipment Manufacturing subsector. The net income has significantly decreased by 43.7% when compared to the same quarter one year ago, falling from $3,292.00 million to $1,853.00 million.

PEER GROUP ANALYSIS

REVENUE GROWTH AND EBITDA MARGIN*

Companies with higher EBITDA margins and revenue growth rates are outperforming companies with lower EBITDA margins and revenue growth rates. Companies for this scatter plot have a market capitalization between $10.3 Billion and $771.3 Billion. Companies with NA or NM values do not appear.

*EBITDA – Earnings Before Interest, Taxes, Depreciation and Amortization.

REVENUE GROWTH AND EARNINGS YIELD

Companies that exhibit both a high earnings yield and high revenue growth are generally more attractive than companies with low revenue growth and low earnings yield. Companies for this scatter plot have revenue growth rates between -31.2% and 260.5%. Companies with NA or NM values do not appear.

SUBSECTOR ANALYSIS

TESLA INC falls within the Manufacturing sector and the Motor Vehicle Manufacturing industry group of the North American Industry Classification System or NAICS. More precisely, a significant portion of company activities involve Automobile Manufacturing.

TheStreet Quant Ratings is currently tracking 2235 companies in the Manufacturing sector that total around $26,715 billion in market capitalization as well as $10,792 billion in annual sales.

The Transportation Equipment Manufacturing subsector accounts for 16.5% of those revenues.

Industries in the Transportation Equipment Manufacturing subsector produce equipment for transporting people and goods. Transportation equipment is a type of machinery. An entire subsector is devoted to this activity because of the significance of its economic size in all three North American countries. Establishments in this subsector utilize production processes similar to those of other machinery manufacturing establishmentsâ bending, forming, welding, machining, and assembling metal or plastic parts into components and finished products. However, the assembly of components and subassemblies and their further assembly into finished vehicles tends to be a more common production process in this subsector than in the Machinery Manufacturing subsector. NAICS has industry groups for the manufacture of equipment for each mode of transportâ road, rail, air, and water. Parts for motor vehicles warrant a separate industry group because of their importance and because they require less assembly than complete vehicles. Land use motor vehicle equipment not designed for highway operation (e.g., agricultural equipment, construction equipment, and material handling equipment) is classified in the appropriate NAICS subsector based on the type and use of the equipment.

THESTREET QUANT RATINGS RESEARCH METHODOLOGY

TheStreet Quant Ratings' stock model projects a stock's total return potential over a 12-month period including both price appreciation and dividends. Our Buy, Hold or Sell ratings designate how we expect these stocks to perform against a general benchmark of the equities market and interest rates. While our model is quantitative, it utilizes both subjective and objective elements. For instance, subjective elements include expected equities market returns, future interest rates, implied industry outlook and forecasted company earnings. Objective elements include volatility of past operating revenues, financial strength, and company cash flows.

Our model gauges the relationship between risk and reward in several ways, including: the pricing drawdown as compared to potential profit volatility, i.e. how much one is willing to risk in order to earn profits; the level of acceptable volatility for highly performing stocks; the current valuation as compared to projected earnings growth; and the financial strength of the underlying company as compared to its stock's valuation as compared to projected earnings growth; and the financial strength of the underlying company as compared to its stock's performance. These and many more derived observations are then combined, ranked, weighted, and scenario-tested to create a more complete analysis. The result is a systematic and disciplined method of selecting stocks.

FINANCIAL ANALYSIS

TESLA INC's gross profit margin for the third quarter of its fiscal year 2023 has decreased when compared to the same period a year ago. Even though sales increased, the net income has decreased, representing a decrease to the bottom line. TESLA INC has average liquidity. Currently, the Quick Ratio is 1.10 which shows that technically this company has the ability to cover short-term cash needs. The company's liquidity has increased from the same period last year.

At the same time, stockholders' equity ("net worth") has greatly increased by 34.16% from the same quarter last year. Together, the key liquidity measurements indicate that it is relatively unlikely that the company will face financial difficulties in the near future.

VALUATION

HOLD. TESLA INC's P/E ratio indicates a significant premium compared to an average of 37.02 for the Transportation Equipment Manufacturing subsector and a significant premium compared to the S&P 500 average of 25.33. For additional comparison, its price-to-book ratio of 14.43 indicates a significant premium versus the S&P 500 average of 4.22 and a significant premium versus the subsector average of 7.04. The price-to-sales ratio is well above both the S&P 500 average and the subsector average, indicating a premium. Upon assessment of these and other key valuation criteria, TESLA INC proves to trade at a premium to investment alternatives.
